New season highlights

If you thought our inspirational talk by Fergus Garrett of Great Dixter would be hard to follow, think again!

March sees us welcome Matthew Wilson who regularly entertains BBC Radio 4 listeners on Gardeners' Question Time with his comprehensive horticultural knowledge and dry wit.

His particular areas of interest include wildlife and landscapes. His talk, A tale of Two Gardens—Harlow Carr and Hyde Hall, will draw on his ten years as curator of those RHS gardens.

As well as his broadcast, media and writing work Matthew is a respected garden designer and manages Clifton Nurseries, a delightful hidden gem in London's Little Venice.

Bingley lass, Katie Rushworth of ITV's 'Love your Garden' fame, will be along in February to talk about creating moods and styles using plants. She may also have some interesting anecdotes about working with Alan Titchmarsh up her sleeve.

Our newest committee member, Kath Batty, has offered to open her garden one Saturday in August for an open garden and coffee morning. This is at Lower Scholes Farm, Pickles Hill, Oakworth. Don't miss this social event because it has been said that Kath's scones are the best in the valley.

The full list with dates of all our meetings is over the page and on our website.

Message from the chair

Happy New Year to all our members.

At the January meeting please make sure you don't queue unnecessarily at the wrong table!

I will be helping people to find the right queue and other committee members will be taking membership money from anyone who hasn't yet joined.

If you have already sent in your membership money please go straight to the table at the back of the room to collect your membership card. If you sent a stamped addressed envelope you should have already got your card in the post.

You can still collect your card at the February meeting but then membership closes.

If you are on email look out for advance copies of the committee reports, which you can read before the AGM part of the meeting. We still need you there in person to vote for committee members and to propose and second the reports.

You will notice that we are serving teas and coffees at the beginning of the meeting for a change. Come any time after 7pm for a chat over a cuppa.

I do hope you enjoy this season's varied programme.
